

Wytossie's Story of Hope

It was 2004 when I went to the KCCC treatment center again. I was in and out of programs back and forth, but I still wasn't willing to give myself up to Christ. I was out there for a while. It was April 11th 2007 when I finally gave my will over to the care of God. I was in my house sitting, getting ready to smoke crack. I was in the front room and a voice called my name at 12am saying, "Wytossie!" I jumped up and looked out the window and didn't see anyone. I shut the door to my bedroom and tried to continue to smoke when I heard a loud voice again saying, "Wytossie!" I went outside and there was no one and nothing in sight. I knew then that it was God's voice talking to me and I threw up my hands and said, "Alright, Lord, I'm ready!" I have been committed to Him ever since. Where I live now is the same aea where I used to get high and have been clean for 4 years now. I pray each day that as I leave my doorstep He will lead and guide me. God has used Bridge of Hope in my life since I got saved and He is using me in other people's lives at Bridge of Hope as well. I am His witness to others that if you are willing to give your will to Him that He can and will change you and bring hope. He has shown me how to have faith, hope, and love in Him. I didn't think I could ever have love or give love like this, but God's love is shining through me now and I praise Him every day.
